This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREPARED BY

JAMES OSBORNE WRIGHT.

NEW YORK:

1889.

DOUGLAS TAYLOR,
PRINTER,
89 NASSAU ST., N. Y.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1. The highest Bidder to be the Buyer, and if any dispute arise between two or more Bidders, the Lot so in dispute shall be immediately put up again and re-sold.

2. The Purchasers to give their names and addresses, and to pay down a cash deposit, or the whole of the Purchase-money, if required, in default of which the Lot or Lots so purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.

3. The Lots to be taken away at the Buyer's Expense and Risk upon the conclusion of the Sale, and the remainder of the Purchase-money to be absolutely paid, or otherwise settled for to the satisfaction of the Auctioneer, on or before delivery; in default of which the undersigned will not hold themselves responsible if the Lots be lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed; but they will be left at the sole risk of the Purchaser.

4. The sale of any Article is not to be set aside on account of any error in the description, or imperfection. All Articles are exposed for Public Exhibition one or more days, and are sold just as they are without recourse.

5. To prevent inaccuracy in delivery and inconvenience in the settlement of the Purchases, no Lot can, on any account, be removed during the Sale.

6. Upon failure to comply with the above conditions, the money deposited in part payment shall be forfeited; all Lots uncleared within three days from conclusion of Sale, shall be re-sold by public or private Sale, without further notice, and the deficiency (if any) attending such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulter at this Sale, together with all charges attending the same. This Condition is without prejudice to the right of the Auctioneer to enforce the contract made at this Sale, without such re-sale, if he thinks fit.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

THIS being an Executor's sale to close the estate, a cash deposit will be required from every purchaser without exception.

Intending purchasers wishing to avoid the trouble and confusion of making a deposit during the sale, can make arrangements previous to day of sale, with the managers or auctioneer, at their office, 6 East Twenty-third Street.

THE LATE

SAMUEL LATHAM MITCHILL BARLOW.

THE generous and genial nature of our lamented friend, Mr. Barlow, has already been the theme of just encomiums and eulogies. It behooves us now to recall his character and merits as an enlightened, liberal and public-spirited bibliophile.

From his boyhood he loved books, and soon endeavored to form a collection. Never in those early days did he return home from his modest law office, however tired by hard work, without canvassing the book stores and book-stalls on the way, and more than once it was not in vain. The beautiful copy of the Antwerp edition of Thevet's Singularitez de la France antarcticque, vellum bound, and stamped with the entwined crescents of Diane de Poitiers,* has no other origin, and was found in Nassau Street.

At no time had it been the object of Mr. Barlow to accumulate a large library in every branch of science and literature. This he properly left to public institutions. Nor did he care to collect books which had no other merit than their extreme rarity. His aim was higher and more in accordance with common sense. From the start, he determined to embrace exclusively the history of America. The subject was already of sufficient scope to absorb his efforts and means; but with a just appreciation of its importance, he brought it within his reach by keeping chiefly in view original authorities and editions. To form regular series, comprehending separate epochs and distinct sections of the New World; to connect all the links, and to illustrate with parallel accounts events but little known, were always the primary motives of his endeavors and purchases. It is thus that we come to find in his collection the invaluable first printed letters of Columbus, Vespuccius and Cortez; the rich series of colonial pamphlets, English, French and Dutch, and the largest set of Jesuit Relations ever offered for sale.

Under the circumstances, his library could never be very extensive, both on account of the high prices which that class of books already commanded, and of their increasing rarity and importance, at home and abroad. But when fortune commenced to smile on him in various ways, and he was informed that the precious library which

* Infra, No. 2444.

Col. Thomas Aspinwall had collected during the thirty years of his residence as United States Consul at London could be purchased, he at once determined to acquire it at any cost.

The books and manuscripts were in Boston, and the agent sent to bring them over, knowing the impatience of Mr. Barlow to behold as his own the desiderata which he had so long sought to possess, had the forethought to select two hundred or more of the choicest works, which he packed in a large trunk, and brought himself to New York. The rest, comprising about 3,700 volumes, were boxed up and sent to a store-house, until the room appropriated for the library in Mr. Barlow's new residence on Madison Avenue was ready to receive the entire collection, and they were destroyed in the conflagration which consumed the establishment of Messrs. Bangs Brothers during the night of the 18th of September, 1864.

The sorrow of our friend was intense. We repaired together to Broadway, and vainly endeavored to save from the burning ruins a few scorched volumes. But, true to his patriotic instincts, he was half comforted with the thought that the rarest New England pamphlets, and particularly the manuscript records of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts during the XVIIth century (No. 2765), so important for the history of his native State, had escaped destruction, and were safely lodged away from the fire.

Far from being discouraged by such a calamity, Mr. Barlow renewed his efforts, and at last succeeded in forming the remarkable collection of works relating to America, which, on account of the death of its founder, is now offered for sale.

The difficulty of replacing those books was greater than ever, and it became even doubtful whether certain series could be completed. The Jesuit Relations, the New England, New Netherlands and Virginia colonial tracts, together with the matchless copies of Smith's History of Virginia, presented a well-connected chain of historical and descriptive works embracing the North American continent. To continue it further South in the same style first required the original Spanish editions of the Letters of Ferdinand Cortez describing his conquest of Mexico. Latin and Italian translations figured at times in important booksellers' catalogues; but where to find the Cartas de relacion printed at Seville, Saragossa, Valencia and Toledo? Mr. James Carter Brown had been so fortunate thirty years before, in securing a full set. Mr. Lenox, however, notwithstanding printed appeals* distributed every where, and the most liberal offers, never could possess more than two out of four, whilst none whatever were known to exist in any other private libraries, either in Europe or America. During one of our exploring expeditions, in search of early documents to copy and publish, we chanced to discover in Spain three of those priceless original Cartas, comprising in fact the entire text of the four, as the one which was printed at Saragossa in 1523, and of which only one specimen was known to exist,† is simply a reprint of the Seville edition of 1522. They soon found their way into the Bibliotheca Barlowiana. No others have been discovered since, and only five of the public libraries of Europe can boast of possessing either three of those great books, or even one.

For the history of the discovery of America, Barlow possessed the celebrated Aspinwall copy of the Epistle of Columbus, printed by Stephanus Plannck at Rome‡ (in 1493). This is unquestionably the first Latin edition of that memorable account, and the prototype of the reprints made in the same year at Paris, Antwerp and Basle,§ as well as of nearly all the reimpressions of the text published in the XVIth and XVIIth centuries, as is shown by the omission in every title of the name of Queen Isabelle. It was necessary for the tenor of De Cosco's translation to find Plannck's corrected edition, which,

§ We refer to the illustrated edition in ten leaves with the printed cover, of which there is not a single genuine complete copy anywhere, and which we supposed to have been printed at Rome (B. A. V., No. 2). In reality, it was printed and published at Basle by Bergmann de Olpe, like the Verardus of 1494. although not quite so rare as the first, attained such high prices when brought under the hammer. A very fine copy was secured by Mr. Barlow at private sale.

The library contained three original Latin editions, and one German version of the separate account of the third voyage of Vespuccius; but there was a Venetian issue which then existed only in two libraries, viz.: the Trivulziana at Milan, and Marciana at Venice.* The beauty and peculiar style of its typography, as well as its origin, showing that the version in the Pæsi Nouamente retrouati had been borrowed from it for the text, and translated into the Venetian dialect before 1506, since this translation already figures in the Ferrara manuscript, rendered Mr. Barlow extremely desirous to find that edition. Happening to discover a duplicate in one of the bound collections of tracts made by Morelli for the Marciana, we obtained from the Italian Government the cession of that rare book to our friend. It is No. 14 of our Additamenta, and No. 2554 of the present catalogue.

There was still wanting a work of the utmost importance for that already remarkable series of Americana. It was the first decade of Peter Martyr, printed at Seville in 1511, but with the supplementary leaves containing the table of errata and the map. We found at Madrid a splendid copy, which, when duly examined, presented differences theretofore unnoticed, in the title and address to Count Tendilla.† Mr. Barlow purchased that important desideratum, and caused it to be bound in perfect Grolier style by Marius.‡

The works relating to the early history of Canada were among the chief objects of his solicitude, and he spared neither efforts nor expense to gather as many as he could. The Barlowiana contained the Champlains of 1613, 1620 and 1632 in extremely fine condition, and all with the original maps, but it preserved no Lescarbot. The editions of 1609, 1611 and 1612 could easily be obtained ; a single bookseller of Paris, Mr. Porquet, had at the same time, a couple of years ago, so many as seven copies of the latter; but Mr. Barlow wanted the valuable edition of 1617* or 1618, the only one which is complete. It was not believed to be in any of the private or public libraries of France;† and Tross, after vainly seeking for that edition had been compelled to make his reprint from that of 1612, which lacks a chapter. It was found, but in New York.

Mr. Barlow had given a standing and unlimited order for the Canadian book, which is unquestionably the most important for the religious history of Canada, and the origin of Montreal—not excepting the Sagard or the LeClerc—besides being, perhaps, next to the Cartier of 1545, the rarest of that class of works. Neither the Browniana, Lexoniana nor any other American library, whether public or private, possessed it, although a copy had once been sold in the United States twenty years ago for $160; but no one could tell what had become of the volume. It was the Véritables Motifs de Messieurs et Dames de la Société de Nostre Dame de Montreal, published at Paris in 1643,‡ but printed only for the use of Mr. Olier's friends, and so rare that even St. Sulpice did not possess it, and the Abbé Faillon was preparing, when he died, to have a manuscript copy taken from the copy in the Paris National Library, the only one known to exist in France. A large paper copy was exhumed from among the scattered archives of a suppressed convent, and bought for Mr. Barlow just in time to save it from the waste basket.

The devotion of the religious orders for the missionaries sent to la Nouvelle-France in the XVIIth century was extremely great, and shared by certain pious and wealthy laymen affiliated to them in a still higher degree, if possible. The Relations never failed to give a separate account of the death of these courageous apostles. The nuns, especially, who fell the victims of their zeal, were remembered with touching descriptions of their lives, efforts and last moments. The Vie de la Mère Marie de l'Incarnation, and of Father Chaumonot are well known. There was one of these biographical letters printed with the Relation of 1669, but which, according to a vague tradition, had been published separately, and only for a few personal friends. We refer to the Lettre circulaire de la mort de la Reverende Mère Catharine de S. Augustin, Religieuse Hospitalière de Quebec. Mr. Barlow had set his heart on acquiring that rarissime book, if it ever could be discovered. The fact is that for an American bibliophile, who already possessed fifty-two copies of the Jesuit Relations in original editions, whilst the richest private libraries in that class of works had never contained more than forty-three,* the Lettre Circulaire was worth having It had never figured in any sale or catalogue, and no traces of the book could be found in the inventories of the religious orders which we had been able to consult. We found it in a Paris bookstore, but the seller, who only suspected the value of it, was not long in becoming convinced of its importance, and fixed the price accordingly. It figures in the present catalogue under No. 1469.

We could mention many other extremely valuable books, which patience, a liberal outlay and peculiar circumstances, permitted Mr. Barlow to place in his library. The reader will easily recognize them in the adjoining pages.

* The most numerous collections of original editions of the Jesuit Relations ever offered for sale are the following:

COURTENVAUX, Paris, 1783,	including duplicates,	43.
MURPHY, N. Y., 1884,	"	39.
O'CALLAGHAN, N. Y., 1882,	"	32.
A SALE, Quebec, 1851,	"	30.
BOSSANGE, Paris, 1873,	"	30.
HARRASSOWITZ, Leipzig, 1882,	"	26.
DR. COURT, Paris, 1884,	"	20.

Mr. Barlow's set comprises, including duplicates, 53, including one which is unique as a separate edition.

There is no complete set of these Jesuit Relations in original editions anywhere. The one coming nearest completion is in the Paris National Library, particularly since we caused the duplicate copy of the Relation of 1632, which was in the Arsenal Library, to be added. We have since found another copy of that first Relation in the Mazarine (No. 35,788).

The wish of that kind and generous man always was that his library should be kept intact, if possible, and rendered after his death as practically useful to the student as it had always been in his lifetime. To that effect, in 1883, he proposed to a New York literary institution to purchase it after having been valued by disinterested experts, and to give one-half of the valuation. In justice to his family he could not do more. Nothing, however, came of this liberal offer; and many years will elapse before patriotic donors and richly endowed societies are graced with another such opportunity to acquire those indispensable elements of the history of America.

Millions and millions of dollars have been bequeathed during the last few years in New York, in Illinois, in California and in other States for the purpose of founding extensive public libraries. The amounts are certainly large enough to allow the acquisition of ancient books, as well as of those modern volumes, which can be easily obtained and which are destined to be always in the market. Can it be said that the administrators of those munificent and judicious bequests duly appreciate the entire importance of the trusts committed to them, when they let pass with supine indifference chances like the present, which will not occur again more than once or twice in a century, to secure at once books of such paramount importance for the history of our country? We have no Archivo de Indias, no Simancas, and since those books are the nearest copies of original manuscripts which are now lost, a collection of them should form the nucleus of a repository of printed archives. True it is that the Lenoxiana contains nearly all the early publications and we can still form one or two collections of that character. Boston or Philadelphia, Chicago or San Francisco, when in possession of ample means due to the patriotic munificence of American citizens, should take it at heart to enrich its public library with such historical and literary treasures.

Perhaps the trustees imagine that Americana of the kind which we have just described can be found at any time. Not long since, a bibliophile of that school walked into our office, with the Bibliotheca Americana Vetustissima under his arm, and asked us to give him the address of the store in Paris where all the works mentioned in that bibliography could be purchased at a reasonable price. His surprise was unbounded when informed that if he possessed all the money of Mr. Vanderbilt and had a century of life before him, he could not with that wealth, and in a hundred years, hope to get scarcely more than two-thirds of those books. Still, it was already something to the credit of that well-meaning citizen to have thought of including the accounts sent by Columbus, Vespuccius, Cortez, Pizarro and Jacques Cartier in an American public library.

Barlow's greatest wish was to benefit others even more than himself; and his library remained open to any one who desired to consult it. You had only to come to the house, ring the bell, express your intention, and you were at once ushered into that hospitable "Black Library," where every bookcase was constantly kept unlocked. If unable to come in person, or residing in a distant city, books, maps and manuscripts were forwarded to the student who stood in need of them to continue or complete historical labors. As we are writing these lines, probably several valuable volumes and atlases still circulate hundreds of miles away from New York. The only regret of the owner was that so few availed themselves of the privilege.

That great and open-handed bibliophile certainly appreciated, as well as any one, unique copies, priceless editions and artistic bindings; but the possession of such rarities did not dry up his heart or enfeeble his mind. He would have blushed to keep for himself in a selfish and inabordable solitude a single one of those books, however precious, especially when it could, in the hands of a competent investigator, throw light upon certain obscure periods of our history. He was generous to excess; and many a one, near and far, from Madison Avenue or William Street, has received at his hands important services, discreetly proffered, and still more discreetly received, which the ingratitude of some, and dishonesty of others, never prevented him from rendering again, to the last day of his life.

Nor were his efforts limited to dispensing liberally sources of information by means of one of the best libraries of American books ever brought together, and in causing to be printed at his own cost, for private distribution, works on American subjects, which could not have been published otherwise.* He strove also to inculcate in the few young men who cared for historical knowledge, notions of an elevated character regarding the early history of America, and a critical study of the facts and original authorities. He knew and felt that next to Christianity, the discovery of the New World was the greatest event of our era, and one destined, ere long perhaps, to evolve consequences which may remodel the conquests of European civilization. The voyages of Columbus, Vespuccius, the Pinzons, Magellan, Cartier, will then be altogether things of the past, and studied probably with as much care and perseverance as scholars now endeavor to elucidate Solomon's expeditions to Ophir and Tharsis. If so, it will be necessary to interrogate again the old archives, and to examine by the light of trustworthy analysis and critical inquiries all the data and evidence. Then shall we weigh the assertions and conclusions of modern historians, and see what is to become of the works of certain writers and critics, particularly those who now-a-days dispense with citing authorities for events alleged to have occurred centuries ago ; and modestly claim for their elucubrations the confidence accorded to the Gospel.

In keeping with those ideas, Barlow urged his friends to pave the way for such useful and laborious pursuits, by devoting their time, their intelligence and their means to the search of original and authentic documents. He pressed them to explore the Vatican, the Frarii and Marciana, Simancas, La Lonja and the Escorial, the Bank of St. George and Uffizi, and bring to light from those famous repositories of archives, perhaps only a name, a date or a mere allusion, but still something which might enable honest historians to elucidate obscure points of our old annals. When once in possession of those inestimable elements, there would still remain the task of establishing the text on a sound basis; illustrating it with notes and extracts from other manuscripts; and finally exposing in an exact and precise statement, bolstered with every proof, the results so dearly obtained. "Even then," he was wont to say philosophically, "the truth will only be relative and of a transitory character, as further investigations, or new modes of thought, may impair synthetic conclusions deemed heretofore incontestable;—and thus it will be to the end of time." And he quoted the instances of Augustin Thierry, Motley, and a number of other conscientious historians.

Barlow, particularly during the last few years of his life, was fond of reading history; not, however, in those famous compilations or didactic works, which set forth pretended conclusive answers to every question imaginable, and where political fawning or grandiloquence, is made to replace a sincere and difficult study of the original sources. He much preferred the modest and short disquisitions confined to a single event, character or date, but exhibiting initial researches, method and acumen. Tolerant as he was, it distressed him to see the constant, barefaced repetition of doubtful facts, unsupported assertions, and fallacies of long standing, all paraphrased, or presented as the unimpeachable results of novel, arduous and personal studies, which constitute the woof and warp of so many modern works.

In the hope of curing that malady of our historical writers and encyclopedists, which he considered almost as a public calamity, Barlow was untiring in his efforts to impress upon students the necessity of dismissing at the outset every preconceived notion relative to the subject which they proposed to investigate.

"If you possibly can, commence," said he, "as Descartes did when preparing to write his Discourse on Method, by making tabula rasa of all previous knowledge regarding the particular point of inquiry. Ascend to the fountain-head, wherever it may be; examine for yourself every element with the utmost care, and mark down the cause for which you admit or reject it. If in the course of time new reasons come to impair the solidity of your synthesis, say why you abandon those first results, and fear not the cheap accusation of inconsistency.

"Above all, do not be dazzled by the ancientness or reputation of the annalists and chroniclers from whom you must necessarily derive much of the original substance of your historic labors. Historians in ancient times were inferior even to many of our own as regards discrimination and veracity. The fact that they were nearer, and sometimes eye-witnesses of the events which they relate, is no decisive circumstance in their favor. There is no employee to-day in the Medal Rooms of the British Museum, or of the Bibliothèque Nationale, who does not know vastly more regarding the authentic history of Rome than Livy or Dio Cassius ever did. Yet, examine only after your work is finished modern historical and geographical compositions, however extolled and presented by their authors and friends as perfect models to the rising generation. You may then discover curious things.

"Go straight before you, regardless of consequences; and with no other objective than to get at the truth, so far as our infirm nature permits. If the results are at variance with commonly received notions or legends, and denied on that sole account, take no notice whatever of the objection. But, on the other hand, do not seek a priori to upset general beliefs or traditions. Let your efforts be prompted by an earnest desire to confirm rather than to overturn; and swerve from the beaten path only when the facts compel you to do so.

"Whatever may be their merits or demerits, your works will attract but little attention. Nor can the author, dedicated to that class of dry and difficult researches, expect always justice at the hands of the rare critics who may feel disposed to notice his writings; as, to be fairly judged, these require an amount of patience, toilsome study, and, let it be said, adequate knowledge of the subject, which they do not all possess. You may rest assured that the greater the competence and impartiality of your adversaries, the gentler will be their criticisms. Having probably gone through the same ordeal as yourselves, they cannot but appreciate the amount of labor and abnegation involved in such efforts. And yet, who knows? an impardonable misprint, a p put for a b, or a b for a p, is perhaps all that which during twenty-five years and more will ever be noticed, here, in that mass of facts and documents which I expect you, and every one of you, to discover, elucidate and publish."

With that good-natured smile which so often played on his lips, Barlow rarely failed to complete the friendly admonition by describing the trials and kind of reward attending such sacrifices and exertions.

"Publishers, said he, will invariably and with touching unanimity decline to undertake, at their own cost, the publication of works of that character; and no one should blame them for it. On general principles, there is no reason why they should stake a single dollar on a book which few people will read, and fewer still will buy. Publishers do not usually set up in business with the hope or for the sole purpose of working their way into heaven. Why should they be more patriotic than our next-door neighbor, or the man across the way? Business is business; and if you choose to be philanthropic, if you aspire to play the part of a benefactor of mankind, it must be at your own risk and expense. The fact that our country justly boasts of numberless geographical and historical societies, colleges and universities, besides five thousand three hundred and thirty-eight public libraries, many of them munificently endowed, while the rest could doubtless afford to invest a small sum in that kind of American histories, does not alter materially the aspect of the case. In this utilitarian age, public libraries are instituted to dispense only such books as may amuse or prove interesting to the majority of readers. Now, who takes a serious interest in the controverted questions where Columbus, Vespuccius, Pinzon, John Cabot, Diego de Lepe or Corte Reals actually went, under what circumstances, and in the details of their discoveries; whether Verrazzano, Gomez, or unknown Spanish and Portuguese navigators long before them, first landed on our shores, and left traces of their explorations? Where is the reader for the laborious analysis of maps and documents, all sifted with unremitting perseverance to ascertain the real purport of every name, word and cartographical assertion, to discover the origin of the nomenclature and configurations in the earliest charts, and to establish a solid basis for further enquiries and descriptions? How many, in fine, care for those and a multitude of other primary facts of paramount importance for the geography, history and ethnography of the New World? They are few and far between.

"What, you lift up your eyes, and already assume the attitude of a victim! But, writing books, even on American bibliography, is not an apostolic mission. Nor will the earth cease to revolve on its axis though you should never pen a line on the subject. If you do not find within yourself the recompense you think is due to such efforts, or cannot afford to write history neither for fame nor money, then turn at once your attention to some other pursuit.

"Yet, the work needs be accomplished; and even if there is, from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico, only one of our fellow-beings who longs to know the truth regarding the discovery and historical commencements of the New World, the book should be written. Nay, if no publishing house, at home or abroad, cares to have it printed, and you have the means or can borrow the money, defray yourself the expenses of publication, and launch your work into the community. Not one tenth of the edition, however limited, will find purchasers, while the rest will be left to mould away and disappear. Do not be discouraged. If a single copy survives, and the book has been honestly written, time will instill into its discarded pages new elements of life, and perhaps elicit from some candid and diligent student of history a recognition of your efforts and sacrifices."

Mr. Barlow made one proselyte; and although, thus far, only his inauspicious warnings have proved true, the task will be continued to the last.

The compiler of this catalogue is under some obligation to explain apparent discrepancies in at least one item contained in its pages. The recent discovery of two editions of the Spanish text of the Columbus Letter, a discovery only verified since page 81 was printed, will alter the statement there made, even though it lends additional interest to the subject itself.

The chief care of the writer has been to elaborate defects, rather than enlarge on the quality of items that well deserve a more eulogistic description, and the only blemish that has come to light not hitherto explained, is that part of the last leaf in No. 636 is one of Pilinski's marvelous fac-similes.

The labor-saving but treacherous element of scissors and paste, has caused a few errors so obvious as to need no correction, but the care taken by the printer has prevented far less than the usual typographical blunders.

Mr. Harrisse has, on invitation, kindly supplied some pages, only possible from his virile pen and his intimate knowledge of the subject in hand.

Should the reader fail to appreciate the alphabetical arrangement of these pages, if he fails to find De Bry under B, for example, his inventive faculty will be at fault; and if the famous subject of a memoir has been chosen, rather than the less famous author, it must certainly offer the easiest reference.

cal and astronomical diagrams, with Volvelles and other movable pieces. 4to, morocco, gilt over red leaves, by Riviere.

Landshutae, 1524

B. A. V., No. 127.

First Ed. Title, 5 prelim. leaves and 104 numbered leaves. Apian was the designer of the map which appeared in the celebrated work of Camers upon Solinus in 1520. The above has two small maps (fols. 2 and 63) which bear the delineation and title of America; and the fourth chapter of the second part (fol. 66) is an article devoted wholly to America and Vespucci, ignoring the name of Columbus.

par Gemma Frison, &c. Woodcuts as before, with map of the world added. 4to, vellum. [66 leaves.] Anvers, 1544

B. A. V., No. 253. The most important addition to the above edition is the large map at folio 26, which shows a wonderful advance in the knowledge of the New World's Geography.

107 [APIANUS.] The same, with finer map, but less perfect diagrams. Half vellum. Anvers, 1544

108 [APIANUS.] COSMOGRAPHIA Petri Apiani, per Gemmam Frisium . . . Additis euisdem argumenti libellis ipsius Gemmæ Frisii. Woodcuts as before, and the large map (fol. 30–31). 4to, morocco, gilt over red leaves, by Riviere. Antwerpiæ, 1545

The large map differs from that in the Anvers edition of 1544 simply in the marginal inscription.

109 [APIANUS.] The same, without the large map. 4to, vellum, cloth. Antwerpiæ, 1545

Bound at the commencement of this copy will be found—"Arithmeticæ Practicæ Methodus Facibus, per Gemmam Frisium," &c. Antwerpiæ, 1540.

"As late as 1655 the Indians of New York were revenging the murderous slaughter of four hundred of their countrymen at Pavonia by that sanguinary coward Governor Kieft. The petition shows that three hundred of the Dutch colony had been slain and one hundred carried away captive. So audacious had the fierce Indians become that several of the Dutch had been killed on the Island of Manhattan; and on one occasion sixty-four canoes loaded with the savages had landed on the shore of the North River, and before daylight had filled the streets of New Amsterdam. The first objects upon which the eyes of the astonished Dutchmen rested in the morning were the crowds of savages, to whose forbearance alone they owed their lives"—FIELD.

The Murphy copy.

This early edition of the Relation is of the greatest rarity.

The journey of Cabeça de Vaca across the entire continent from the Peninsula of Florida to the Cinaloa on the Pacific, 1528 to 1537, and thence to the City of Mexico, is one of the most remarkable on record, and ranks in importance with that of Marco Polo in the East in the thirteenth century.

The narration of the unfortunate expedition of Cabeça de Vega across the territory now occupied by the Southern States from Florida to Texas, in the year 1527, is full of the most melancholy yet absorbing interest. Nine years of wanderings and captivity among the Indians elapsed before this ill-fated member of a still more unfortunate band escaped almost alone of all who set out so joyously with him."—T. W. FIELD.

413 CABEÇA DE VACA. The NARRATIVE of ALVAR NUÑEZ CABEÇA DE VACA. Translated by Buckingham Smith. 8 maps. Folio, half morocco, gilt top, uncut. Washington, 1851

THE COLUMBUS LETTERS.

569 [Columbus.] Epistola Christofori Colom: cui etas nostra multu debet: de Insulis Indie supra Gangem nuper inventis. Ad quas perquirendas octavo antea mense auspiciis et ere invictissimi Fernandi Hispaniarum Regis missus suerat: ad Magnificum dnm Raphaelem Sanxis; eiusdem serenissimi Regis Tesaurariu missas quam nobilis ac litteratus vir Aliander de Cosco ab Hispano sermone in latinum convertit: tertio kal's Maij. m.cccc.xciii. Pontificatus Alexandri Sexti Anno Primo. 4to, morocco antique, gilt edges, by Bedford. [Rome, 1493?]

B. A. V., No. 1. Four leaves of 34 lines to a full page.

Fine copy. Size of leaf 8⅜ x 5½ inches.

No copy of the original Spanish letter has yet been found, either in manuscript or printed, so that this Latin translation by Leander de Cosco takes precedence. It is fairly established to be printed in the types of Stephen Planck of Rome though sine anno aut loco. Harrisse, certainly the best authority on this subject, has accorded this particular impression the place of honor, and as a copy, now in Germany, is held at the price of three thousand dollars, there seems to be little doubt that this is valued as the editio princeps. A perfect translation can be found in Major's "Select Letters of Columbus." one of the publications of the Hakluyt Society.

570 [Columbus.] Epistola Christofori Colom: cui etas nostra multu debet: de Insulis Indie supra Gangem nuper inventis. Ad quas pergrendas octavo antea mense auspiciis et ere invictissemon Fernādi et Helisabet Hispanian Regū missus fuerat: ad magnificum dnm Gabrielem Sanchis eorundē serenissimom Regum Tesaurariū missa: quā nobilis ac litteratus vir Leander de Cosco ab Hispano idiomate in latinum cõvertit tertio kal's Maii M.CCCC.XC.III. Pontificatus Alexandri Sexti Anno Primo. 4to, vellum, rough edges.

[Rome: S. Planck, 1493]

B. A. V., No. 4. But with 33 lines to a full page, not 30. There is also a water-marked leaf; the device a pair of scales.

Presumptively the third appearance of this Letter, and only second in rarity to the preceding item. Ellis, in the Huth Catalogue, claims that Major has proven this impression to be the first.

In condition this example leaves little to be desired. It measures 8$\frac{1}{8}$ x 5$\frac{5}{8}$ inches on the leaf.

DE BRY'S COLLECTION OF TRAVELS AND VOYAGES TO AMERICA AND THE EAST.

734 A Set of the Great and Small Voyages. 26 vols., folio and small folio, polished calf extra, by Bedford.

Abstract of the Two Series in brief :

GREAT VOYAGES.

I.—HARIOT (T.). Admiranda Narratio Fida tamen, de Commodis, et Incolarum Ritibus Virginiæ. Map of Virginia and 28 plates. 1590

First edition, but with the cum gratia, &c., filled in. Brunet claims the above as the first impression, never having seen the cum gratia, &c., in small italics, printed on a narrow slip and pasted on the title-page.

II.—LE MOYNE de MORGUES. Brevis Narratio eorum quæ in Florida Americæ Provincia-Gallis acciderunt. 42 plates. 1591

First edition.

III.—STADE (Johannes). Americae tertia pars memorabile provinciæ Brasiliæ Historiam. Addita est Narratio profectionis Joannis Lerij. Map and 44 engravings in the text. 1592

First edition, with impressions of both variations of the first title, the two variations of the escutcheon plate, both variations of the second title, the plate of Adam and Eve: the latter also in the Hariot's Virginia.

IV.—BENZONI (H.). Americae pars quarta, sive, Insignis & Admiranda Historia de reperta primùm Occidentali India à Christophoro Columbo. Map and 24 plates. 1593

First edition, with the first title duplicated and the 24 plates in both states before and after the numbers. The escutcheon plate has the six female figures (Virtues).

V.—BENZONI. Americæ pars quinta Nobilis. Secundæ sectionis. Portrait of Columbus, map of New Spain and 22 plates. 1595

First edition. 92 (82) pages. The foot-notes in Roman, the numbering of the plates also in Roman.

VI.—BENZONI. Americae pars sexta. Sectio tertia. Map of America, plan of Cusco and 28 plates. 1596

First edition, with both variations of the second title.

VII.—SCHMIDEL. Americæ Pars VII. VERISSIMA ET JNCUNDISSIMA descriptio praecipuarum quarundam Indiæ regionum & Insularum, quæ quidem nullis ante hæc tempora visæ cognitæque, iam primum ab Ulrico Fabro. 1599, &c.

First edition, with plate on p. 7. The plates which belong to this part are the first three included in the eighteen plates of the following volume.

VIII.—[RALEIGH'S GUIANA, &c.] Americæ pars VIII. continens Primo, Descriptionem trium Itinerum Nobilissimi et fortissimi equitis Francisci Draken, qui peragrato primum universo terrarum orbe, postea cum nobilissimo Equite Johanne Hauckens. Secundo, iter nobilissimi Equitis Thomæ Candisch, Tertio, Gualtheri Ralegh. 1599, &c.

First edition, with the two small maps on duplicate leaves, in addition to the usual pages, 78 of first part and 3 of the second. Also the large map of Guiana and 18 plates preceded by a second title.

IX.—[ACOSTA (J de).] Americæ Nono & postrema Pars: de Novi Orbis Natura, &c. Addita est tertio Navigatio recens, quam 4, navium praefectus Olevier à Noort. 1602. [Map of the Strait of Magellan and 39 (25–14) plates.]

First edition, with all the sub-titles.

X.—[VESPUCIUS, HAMOR and JOHN SMITH.] Americæ pars decima : qua continentur,

I. Duæ Navigationes Dn. Americi Vesputii.

II. Solida narratio de moderno provinciæ Virginiæ Raphe Hamor.

III. Vera descriptio Novæ Anglæ, à Capitaneo Johanne Schmidt. 1619

[Map of the Phillippine Islands and 12 plates.]

Earliest impression, with the initial H at page 21 printed upside down.

XI.—[SCHOUTEN and SPILBERGEN.] Americæ pars undecima : seu Descriptio Admirandi Itineris a Guillielmo Schouten Hollando pis, atque iconibus in æs incisis jam primùm illustrata, Opera. [9 plates and 2 maps.] 1619

[SECOND TITLE.] Appendix seu Admirandæ Navigationis a Georgio a Spilbergen. [20 plates.] 1620

The vignette on the title-page of the first part reappears as plate I. of the same part.

XII.—[HERRARA.] Novi Orbis pars duodecima sive Descriptio Indiæ Occidentalis, auctore Antonio de Herrara . . . accesserunt et aliorum Indiæ Occidentalis Descriptiones, uti & navigationum omnium per Fretum Magellanicum succincta narratio, Quibus cohærent Paralipomena Americæ. [14 maps and 19 plates.] 1624

The above is another exception to the statement by Camus in reference to the plate at folio 130 being covered by the correct illustration on separate slip.

XIII.—[NEW ENGLAND, &c.] Decima Tertia Pars Historiæ Americanæ.

I. Novæ Angliæ, Virginiæ, Brasiliæ, Guianæ, & insulæ Bermudæ.

II. Terræ Australis incognitæ.

III. Expugnationis urbis S. Salvatoris & Sinus Omnium Sanctorum ab Hollandis factæ, & quomodo Hispani.

IV. Novi Mexici, Cibolæ, Cinaloæ, Quiviræ, rerumq memorabilium, quæ in Yucutan, Guatimala, Fonduris, & Panama, &c.

V. Navigationis Hollandorum per universum orbem, duce Jacobo Eremita.

VI. Classis Hispanicæ prædivitis ab Hollandis, duce Petro. Heinio.

VII. Urbis Olindæ de Fernambucco in Brasilia ab Hollandis, duce Henrico Cornelio Lonckio. 1634

[Nine large and 21 small maps and plates, the latter printed in the text].

SMALL VOYAGES.

First Part.

I.—[PIGAFETTA.] Regnum | Congo | hoc est | Vera Descri | ptio Regni Afri | cani, quod tam ab in | colis quam Lusitanis. | Congus appellatur | per | Philippum Pigafetam | olim ex Edoardi Lopez acroamatis | lingua Italica excerpta. 1598

COLLATION: Engraved title. Dedicatory Epistle, 3 pages, with coat-of-arms on the first. Preface three pages—two maps of Congo and one of Northern Africa—pages 1-60—Index 6 pages—Blank leaf—title-page to plates. "Icones quibus ad Maiorem lectoris recreationem, &c." 14 plates.

First Part, with Appendix.—2d Ed.

[PIGAFETTA.] Regnum | Congo. 1624

Same as the first edition, with the addition of the following:

Appendix Regni | Congo. | Qua continentur naviga | tiones quinque Samuelis Brunonis. 1625

COLLATION: Engraved title—dedication three pages—preface 2 pages—Greek verses signed I. L. Gottfridus, 1 page—pages 1-86. The eleven engravings are printed on the following pages: 4, 7, 17, 38, 39, 43, 45, 49, 51, 56, 61, 71; that on page 17 having previously appeared in the first part as No. 13.

II.—[LINDSCHOTEN.] II Pars | Indiæ Orientalis, | in qua | Johan. Hugonis Lintscotani | Navigatio in Orientem. 1599

Plate 37 is a double-page, and plate 6 has already appeared on page 49 of the Appendix to the First Part. A map of Mozambique follows page 18; the islands of Java, Sumatra and Borneo at page 51, followed by the map "Descriptio Hydrographica" (which properly belongs to page 54, part 3); map of Goa, page 72, and plate of metallic currency at page 97.

III.—[LINDSCHOTEN.] Tertia Pars | Indiæ Orientalis.
I. Secunda pars navigationum à Joanne Hugone Lint | schotano.
II. Navigatio Hollandorum in insulas Orientales.
II. Tues navigationes Hollandorum in modò dictam Indiam per Septen | trionalem seu glacialem Oceanum. 1601

COLLATION: Engraved title—"Benevolo Lectori," 4 pages—pages 1–170, with the maps at pages 31, 32, 40 and 128—Second title—plates 1 to 58 (minus 17 and 18), map of Nova Zembla on reverse of plate 58—description of the map and colophon, 1 leaf.

Plate 1 has been used as before on 56 of the Appendix; plate 3 on page 71, and plate 7 on page 45 of the same book. Plate 28 is numbered XXIIX., and is a repetition of No. 24.

IV.—[LINDSCHOTEN.] Pars Quarta | Indiæ Orientalis | qua Primum varij generis Animalia, Fructus, Arbores: accuratè describuntur | Per | Joannem Hugonem Lintzchotanum | Secundo: Novissima Hollandorum in Indiam Orientalem | navigatio, 1598 suscepta. 1601

COLLATION: Title in engraved border—Dedication—Preface—3 pages and a blank—text 1 to 111—title—plates 1 to 21.

V.—Indiæ Orientalis | quâ continetur | Vera & accurata descriptio universa navigationis illius, quam | Hollandi cum octonis navibus interras Orientales. 1601

The spelling of the word Orientalis seems to identify this as the second edition, but as the plates are all printed on separate pages it is more probably the first.

COLLATION: Title, in engraved border—preface 2 leaves—text 1 to 60—title to plates—plates 1–20.

VI.—Veram et Histo | ricam Descriptionem | Auriferi Regni Guineæ, ad Africam | pertinentis, quod alias littas de mina vo | cant, continens. 1604

COLLATION: Title, with Vignette—Dedicatory Epistle 2 l—pp. 1 to 127. (rev. blank)—title to plates dated 1603—plates 1 to 26.

In the above copy are two impressions of plate III., one with eleven lines of text under the plate, the other twelve. Plate II. is also numbered III.

The vignette on the title is the same as in part 10 of the Grand Voyages, and the question raised in the Huth catalogue respecting the number of ships, is easily decided by an analysis of the sails; though the peculiar rig of the stern ship might easily lead to the mistake of placing a third hull beneath the foresail of the second.

VII.—Navigationes duas, | Primam, triam Annorum, à Georgis Spilbergio, trium, navium præfecto, Ann. 1601. ex Selandia in Indiam | Orientalem susceptam : |
Alteram, novem Annorum, à Casparo Balby, 1579. ex Alepo Babyloniam versus | & inde porro ad regnum Pegu usque continuatam, | continens. | 1606

COLLATION : Title in engraved border—Dedication 1 l—pp. 1–26—Title to plates—plates 1 to 22. The pagination of the text is faulty : p. 50 is numbered 54, 59 is numbered 69, pp. 91 and 92 are omitted, and 95 and 96 duplicated.

Plates 8 (plan of "Candy") and 9 (map of "Celon") are double-paged.

This copy has the arms of Archbp. Swichard at the head of the Dedication.

In some copies the arms in part VI. is repeated.

VIII.—Navigationes Quinque, | Primam, à Jacobo Neccio, ab Anno 1600, usque | ad Annum 1603. |
Secundam, à Johanne Hermanno de Bree, | ab Anno 1602, usq ad Annum 1604. |
Tertiam, à Cornelio Nicolai, Annis quatuor. |
Quartam à Cornelio de Vena, duobus Annis. |
Quintam sub Stephano de Hagen tribus Annis, | in Indiam Orientalem susceptus & peractas continens. | 1607

COLLATION : Title in engraved border—Lectori pp. 3–5—Preface pp. 6–12—text pp. 13–114 (p. 63 numbered 84, and 79–89) blank leaf—title to plates—plates 1 to 18, of which plates 12, 13 and 18 are double-paged.

IX.—Historicam Descriptionem Na | vigationes ab Hollandes & Selandis in Indiam Orienta | lem sub imperio Petri-Guilielmi Verhussii, Continens : | Addita, omnium, quæ hoc tempore eis obtigerunt, | annotatione. | 1612

COLLATION.—Title, in engraved border, with the word "Architectura" in top panel—Lectori 1 l—map of Helena—pp. 1–49, reverse of last leaf blank—blank leaf—title to plates—Lectori 1 l.—reverse blank—plates 1–12, followed by a chart of Mozambique—title to Supplement—pp. 1–30—title to "Colloquia Latina-Malaica"—pp. 33–88—blank leaf—title to plates—plates 1–5.

X.—Historica Relatio sive | Descriptio Novi ad Aquilo | nem transitus, supra terras Americanas | in Chinam atq Japonem ducturi, quemadmodum is | ab Henrico Hudsono. Terra nempè Australi inco | gnita à Capitaneo quodam Petro-Ferdinando | de Quir, &c. 1613

COLLATION.—Title in engraved border—Lectori pp. 3–7—8th page blank—text pp. 9–32—3 maps—title to plates—plates 1–3.

XI.—I. Duarum navigationum, quas jussu Emanuelis Portugaliæ, Regis in Indiam Orien | talem Ann. 1501. Dn Americus Veputius instituit, historia. |

II. Vera atque hactenus inaudita Angli cujusdam relatio, qui nave quadam, cui Ascens | sionis nomen. in extremam. Indiæ Orientalis oram Cambajam Vectus.

III. Descriptio regionis Spitzbergæ ; additâ simul relatione injuriarum, quas Ann. 1613. -a | lii piscatores ab Anglis perpessi sunt. 1619

COLLATION.—Title, with portrait of Oliver a Nort—Lectori pp. 3–4—text, pp. 5–62—second title—plates 1–10.

XII.— HISTORIARUM | ORIENTALIS | INDIÆ. | Tomus XII. | In tres Libros Tractatus distributus | Quorum.

PRIMUS. Continet descriptiones Chorographicas & Topographicas Regnorum, Provinciarum, Insularum, Ur | bium, Castellorum, Emporiorum ; Montium atque Fluviorum, totius illius Continentis, quæ vulgo Orientalis In | diæ.

SECUNDUS. Habet Narationes exquisitas aliquot Navigationum & Expeditionum Marinarum, ab Anglis Ba | tavisque potissimum, in omnes illas Orientis & Austri partes susceptarum, ut & præliorum aliquot navalium vario | eventu commissorum : quibus accessit Periplus Orbis Terræ, à Jacobo Eremita.

TERTIUS tribuitur descriptioni quarundam Septentrionalium Regionum atque Insularum. 1628

COLLATION.—Title—Preface, 1 leaf—pp. 1–208. Map of Hindostan at p. 10, and China, p. 63. Etchings (14), on pp. 26, 31, 91, 94, 95, 97, 130, 132, 134, 147, 152, 160, 163 and 202. P. 43 is numbered 34, and 132 and 133 are numbered 32 and 33.

First edition.

770 [DIAZ.] HISTORIA VERDADERA de la CONQUISTA de la NUEVA-ESPAÑA. Folio, calf. Madrid, 1632

771 DIAZ DEL CASTILLO. HISTORIA VERDADERA de la CONQUISTA de la NUEVA-ESPAÑA . . . sacada a luz por . . . Alonso Remon. Engraved title. Folio, purple levant morocco extra, gilt leaves, by Pratt. Madrid, 1632

Second and best edition; at least, so considered, because of the additional chapter (212) at the end, which had not previously appeared, and which contains an account of the signs and marvels which had been seen by the Indians before the arrival of the Spaniards. This chapter, el ultimo del original, had been omitted by the editor when first printing the narrative, as one containing matters of which the author could not say, as of all the rest, quorum pars magna fui. The two editions, which are really distinct publications, and not merely two issues of one, are generally said to have been printed in the same year.

This second edition contains a map which is not in the first. The map is entitled "Nova Belgica, sive Nieuw Nederlandt," and is copied from the rare map of N. J. Vischer. See Asher's list of the "Maps and Charts of N. Netherland," p. 12, Article 9. The "Conditien" is wanting.

"A very large part of this rare work is devoted to a description of the natives of the New Netherlands. Van der Donck arrived in New Amsterdam in 1642. He served as the Sheriff of the colony of Rennselaerwyck, and purchased an estate on the Hudson, near the site of the village of Yonkers. A division of the work before us, found on page 52, is entitled, "Of the Manners and peculiar Customs of the Natives of the New-Netherlands." This is subdivided into twenty-two sections, each treating of some of the peculiarities of the savages of the State of New York. The treatise possesses an interest beyond its rarity, in being the relation of an educated man regarding the Indians of the island and neighborhood of New York. The work was translated by Gen. J. Johnson, and printed in the sixth volume of the New York Historical Society."—FIELD.

1020 [GOMARA (Francisco Lopez de).] Primera y secunda parte de la HISTORIA GENERAL DE LAS INDIAS cō todo el descubrimiento, y cosas notables que han acaescido den de que se ganaron hasta el año de 1551. Con la conquista de Mexico, y de la nueva Espana. Woodcut arms on title. Folio, red levant morocco extra, gilt leaves, by Pratt.

En Medina del Campo, por Guillermo de Millis, 1553

"Gomara's historical merit is considerable. His mode of narration is clear, flowing, always agreeable and sometimes elegant. The copies of his historia de las Indias and of his Chronica were called in by a decree of the Council of the Indies, and were long considered as prohibited books."—ROBERTSON.

It is a great historical work, indispensable to the student of Spanish affairs in America after the conquest, notwithstanding the charges made by Bernal Diaz against Gomara of occasional inaccuracy. The dedication to Charles V. begins with these remarkable words: "The greatest event which has happened since the creation of the world (leaving aside the incarnation and death of Him who created it) is the discovery of the Indies."

Gomara prefixes a curious address to intending translators, warning them to be accurate and to measure the full significance of the pregnant Spanish phrases; also, to pay special attention to proper names. He further declares that he is writing the book in Latin, so that the translators may take no trouble in that language. His Latin version has never appeared.

1023 GOMARA. The PLEASANT HISTORIE of the CONQUEST of the VVEAST INDIA, now called new Spayne, Atchieved by the Worthy Prince Hernando Cortes . . . Translated out of the Spanishe tongue by T[homas] N[icholas]. Anno 1578. 8vo, blue morocco extra, gilt leaves, by Pratt. London: Bynneman, [1578]

First edition. Fine copy.

1024 GOMARA. HISTORIA de las CONQUISTAS de HERNAN CORTES, traducida al Mexicano por Chimalpain, publicala con varias notas y adiciones Bustamante. 2 vols., 4to, calf extra, gilt tops, uncut. Mexico, 1826

"The statement on the title of 'translated by Chimalpain' is merely parenthetical. Bustamante when he had in his hands the MS. from which he printed the book, supposed it to be an original work by Chimalpain, but afterwards discovered that this Mexican, who flourished at the beginning of the seventeenth century, had only rendered Gomara's book into his own tongue. It is not clear from what original Bustamante has published the above volumes; he does not appear to have seen the Mexican text and there is nothing, except a few words in chapter 62, to show any connexion between the Spanish publication of Bustamante and the work of Chimalpain. As for the text, it seems rather like a modern improvement of Gomara, than like a fresh translation from the Mexican version. However this may be, the editor's notes are copious and valuable.

[It should be stated, indeed, that a MS. professing to contain the Mexican text of Chimalpain's history, but according to the description differing in its character from that of Gomara, was sold at the Abbé Fischer's sale in 1869.]"

Now first Edited from the original Manuscript in the British Museum, by R. H. Major, Esq. Map and 6 plates.

London, 1849

The preface gives an historical account of early English Navigators to America, and their colonizations, particularly in Virginia. It includes a "Letter from Lord Delawarr, Governor of Virginia," giving an account of his voyage out, and of his proceedings since his arrival in Virginia. (He left Plymouth 1st of April, and dates his letter July 7th, 1610.) The History has a 2nd book, "Entreating of the first discoveries of the Colony, and of the first Colonie upon the Island of Roanoak. As also of the Northern Colonie, seated upon the River of Sachadehoc, anno 1585."

"Book I. was written probably some years before Captain John Smith's General History of Virginia, and is more especially remarkable as having afforded Mr. Deane and Mr. Niel the data upon which to charge the name of Pocahontas with infamy."—FIELD.

1127 [HECKEWELDER.] A NARRATIVE of the MISSION of the UNITED BRETHREN among the DELAWARE and MOHEGAN INDIANS, from its Commencement, in the year 1740, to . . . 1808. Comprising all the Remarkable Incidents which took place at their Missionary Stations during that period. Interspersed with Anecdotes, Historical Facts, Speeches of Indians, and other Interesting Matter. By John Heckewelder. . . . Portrait. 8vo, half blue morocco, gilt top, uncut. Philadelphia, 1820

"Heckewelder's narrative is a full and undoubtedly faithful record of all the details of the Mission, its wonderful success and its appalling destruction. He was able to give a thousand particulars from personal experience, and it is at once an interesting story, abounding in veritable incidents; and a valuable history, fortified by impregnable facts. Forty years of missionary life among the Delaware and Shawnese tribes had amply fitted the author to record the facts which fell under his own knowledge."—FIELD.

1187 HUDSON (E. M.). Der ZWEITE UNABHANGIGKEITS-KRIEG in AMERIKA. 8vo, half morocco. Berlin, 1862

1188 [HUDSON (Henry).] Descriptio ac delineatio Geographica DETECTIONIS FRETI, sive, Transitus ad Occasum suprà terras Americanas . . . Item Narratio . . . Australiæ Incognitæ . . . per Capt. P. Ferdinandez de Quir. 2 woodcuts and the 3 large maps, mounted on linen. 4to, calf, gilt leaves, by Riviere. Amsterodami, 1612

This small, though important work, might, with some reason, be assigned to Hessel Gerritsz, its author and compiler, rather than to Henry Hudson, a narrative of whose third and fourth voyage it contains among other articles.

Hessel Gerritsz was a contemporary of Hudson—a geographer, a map-maker, and a publisher of geographical works. "His labours," writes Asher, "though few in number, are of the most genial nature. Fixing his eyes on the boundaries of the known world, he followed with enthusiasm the first rays of light that began to penetrate into regions of darkness and mystery. Hudson's chart of the fourth voyage was Gerritsz's first publication, and around it grew, in a very remarkable manner, the most interesting of the many collections of voyages and travels printed in the early part of the sixteenth century."—HENRY HUDSON, the Navigator. Hakluyt Soc., page 44.

1189 [HUDSON.] Descriptio ac delineatio Geographica DETECTIONIS FRETI, Sive, Transitus ad Occasum suprà terras Americanas, &c. Woodcuts (2) and folded plate, also inserted plate. 4to, morocco antique, gilt top. Amsterodami, 1613

Wants the 3 maps. See J. C. B.

This is the second Latin edition of the so-called Hudson Tract, by Hessel Gerritsz, and is materially enlarged. The account of the voyage of Henry Hudson in 1609 in which he discovered Hudson River, given as a supplement in some copies of the first edition of this tract (1612), is here rewritten and somewhat enlarged and thus made the leading article of the tract. But he adds also in the sixth subdivision, above mentioned, of the contents, an account of the voyage of Jan Mayen, who is referred to in the first edition of the work as then engaged in the northern discovery, giving briefly its contents.

Priced £18.18, in a recent catalogue of Quaritch.

Contains the leaf of "Privilege" and "Approbation" generally missing.

1276 [LE JEUNE.] RELATION de ce qui s'est passe en la Nouvelle France en l'annee 1636 . . . Par le P. Paul le Jeune. 8vo, vellum. Paris: S. Cramoisy, 1637

"Notes sur la Nouvelle France," on account of a typographical error, gives but 172 pages to part first instead of 272.

The second part, which is signed Jean de Brebeuf, is entitled, "Relation de ce qui s'est passé dans le pays des Hurons."

1277 [LE JEUNE.] RELATION de ce qui s'est passe en le Nouvelle France en l'année 1637. . . Par le P. Paul le Jeune. Woodcut. 8vo, vellum. Rouen: Jean le Boulenger, 1638

1279 [LE JEUNE.] RELATION de ce qui s'est passé en la Nouvelle France en l'année 1639 . . . Par le P. Paul le Jeune . . . 8vo. Paris: S. Cramoisy, 1640

This contains the "Privilege" to both parts, and both are ended "Par le Roy en son Conseil." The variation on page 85 of the first part is continued by the frequent errors on page 86, for here half the lines have some imperfection seemingly caused by imperfect spacing, or a badly locked form.

1280 [LE JEUNE.] RELATION de ce qui s'est passé en la Nouvelle France en l'année 1639 . . . Par le P. Paul Le Jeune . . . 8vo, vellum, gilt leaves. Paris: S. Cramoisy, 1640

The "Privilege" to the first part is wanting, and the slight variation spoken of in the "Notes sur la Nouvelle France," No. 75, is a large B, commencing the syllable Bap, the last word of page 85 of the first part.

The second part, "Relation de ce qui s'est passé dans le pays des Hurons pays de la Nouvelle France," 1638–9, ends with the "Privilege," the last words of which read, "Par le Roy en son Conseil."

1281 [VIMONT.] RELATION de ce qui s'est passé en la Nouvelle France en l'annee MDCXL. . . . Par le P. Barthelemy Vimont . . . 8vo, vellum, gilt leaves. Paris: S. Cramoisy, 1641

The most extraordinary and valuable collection ever made of the narrative of a class of men who, two centuries before what we term civilization, had prostrated the forests, explored the vast territories covered by them, recorded the peculiarities of the natives, and in many instances bestowed upon them the blessings of Christianity. These relations, for many years looked upon through the haze of sectarian distrust, were lightly esteemed by the students of American history, but the more their character and statements were investigated, the more important and valuable they appeared. They have become the sources from which we must draw almost all the historic material of New York and Canada during the first century and a half of their exploration by Europeans. It was to perpetuate these monuments of the early history of Canada that Parliament ordered their publication in this form."—FIELD.

1552 MAPS, as follows:

CARTE de L'AMERIQUE SEPTENTRIONALE depuis l'embouchûre de la RIVIERE ST. LAURENS jusques au SEIN MEXIQUE. Size 42½ by 26¼ inches.

"An original map of the greatest importance, undescribed and unknown, drawn up evidently by Randin, Frontenac's engineer, between 1672–1682.

It is the only map where the name Bazire is used to designate the Arkansas River. Bazire was a merchant of Canada, who in 1673, supported Frontenac in his design of building Fort Frontenac . . . The names La Frontenacie, Buade l'outrelaise, &c., &c., lead me to believe that this is the original Randin map, described in my Notes sur la Nouvelle France, p. XXV., and No. 241, which has disappeared from the Archives of the French Navy.

The sketching shows that it was drawn before the discoveries made by La Salle."—H. H.

In addition to the above pièce de resistance, the following numbers of "Notes de la Nouvelle France" are included in this volume [oblong folio, cloth]:

London: M. Sparke, 1635

With the additional Map of New England, of which very few copies exist. The engraved title is dated 1637.

"This has the rare map of Virginia, engraved by Ralph Hall, which is very seldom seen in the book. It gives a special value to the above copy where it is inserted. If the engraving could have been done in time, the sheet would have taken its place with the rest, impressed opposite the text to Virginia, and a Rarity would have been lost to the American Collector. However, the publishers filled up the blank with a duplicate of the New Spain Map, this being mentioned in the Errata with a statement that a correct map of New England was then being prepared in America, which would be published on its arrival in England. A change of owners took place two years afterwards, and the frontispiece was re-engraved, having Sparke's name alone, with 'Second Edition' added, and the date changed. In some of these copies the new map was inserted. The stock thus treated was, however, very small."

1697 [MONTCALM (Marquis DE).] LETTERS from the MARQUIS DE MONTCALM, Governor General of Canada; to Messrs. de Berryer & De la Molé in the years 1757, 1758, and 1759. With an English translation. 8vo. London: J. Almon, 1777

French and English on opposite pages.

These letters, purporting to have been written by so distinguished a man as the Governor General of Canada, the last of them but a few days before the fall of Quebec and the death of both Generals Montcalm and Wolfe, have attracted great interest, while their genuineness has been suspected. But "it has been reserved," says Mr. Henry Stevens in an extended note on the subject, "for Mr. Francis Parkman, the historian, in 1869, to settle almost to a demonstration that the Montcalm letters are forgeries."

1994 POPELLINIERE (Seig. de la). LES TROIS MONDES. Small 8vo, red levant morocco extra, gilt leaves, by Bedford. Paris, 1582.

The title [as above] gives no correct notion of its contents. It contains a History of the Discovery of the East and West Indies by the Spaniards and Portuguese [or Italians], and is singularly curious. He attempts to show that these countries had previously been visited by the Antients, and exhorts the French nation to continue the exploration of new countries. He combats the claim of the Spaniards to the exclusive dominion of the Indies, and says the discovery was made by Italians.

Imprinted 1640. 8vo, half morocco, gilt top, uncut.
Cambridge, 1862

Reprint of the FIRST BOOK printed in the British American Colonies.

"In the reproduction of this quaint volume every word, every letter, and indeed every point has been sedulously collated with a perfect impression of the original work struck at Cambridge in the year 1640. Indeed, so exact and faithful has the compositor been in following the original copy, that the bad spacing, omission of spaces, irregular justification, bad divisions, broken type, letters inverted, mixed lower-case letters with italics, and typographical errors are strictly reproductions of the printer's errors of the olden time."—Preface.

The copy of the original edition in the Crowninshield library was sold by its purchaser, Henry Stevens, London, to the British Museum for one hundred and fifty guineas, and the larger sum, paid for the Brinley copy, is still fresh in the annals of American bibliography.

Only 50 copies printed. No. 5.

London: Printed for the Author, 1765

Very scarce.

"The journals of this celebrated partisan chief afford us many interesting details of border warfare, in the French and Indian War, which ended seventeen years before the Revolution. It was while associated with Rogers that General Putnam is said to have experienced those wonderful adventures, with the relation of which our youthful nerves have so often thrilled. It is, however, remarkable that Major Rogers does not even mention the name of Putnam. The last page (237) is unnumbered, and entitled 'Advertisement.' It announces a continuation or second part of the journal, which never appeared, as the subscriptions of a guinea a copy were probably not sufficiently numerous."—FIELD.

"This great work is a complete Thesaurus—an overflowing treasury of knowledge, respecting the Aborigines of America. It embraces their history, ethnography, antiquities, and languages; their ancient and modern geography; their manners and customs, religion and superstitions; their agriculture, commerce and trade; their ornamental arts, and their physical and intellectual peculiarities. All these subjects are treated in detail, each topic being patiently and thoroughly discussed and exhausted; the work, although mainly executed by the author's own hand, having received the contributions of many savans thoroughly conversant with particular subjects embraced in its pages. It is the most complete and thorough collection of treatises relating to the Indians, and comprises also the only general history of the aboriginal race, which has ever been published."

2249 SHELVOCKE (G.). A VOYAGE ROUND the WORLD By the Way of the Great South Sea, Perform'd in the Years 1719, 20, 21, 22, in the Speedwell of London, of 24 Guns and 100 Men, (under His Majesty's Commission to cruise on the Spaniards in the late War with the Spanish Crown) till she was cast away on the Island of Juan Fernandez, in May, 1720; and afterwards continu'd in the Recovery, the Jesus Maria and Sacra Famila, &c. By Captain George Shelvocke. Map and 4 plates. 8vo, calf. London, 1726

Two histories were published of this voyage. This was intended by the author as a vindication of his conduct, he having been accused of piracy and embezzlement. The other was written by William Betagh, who was roughly treated in Shelvocke's narrative, and, in return, wrote with the design of exposing Shelvocke.

The author's relation of the discovery of gold is remarkable. "The soil about Puerto Seguro (and very likely in most parts of the valleys) is a rich black mould, which, as you turn it up fresh to the sun appears as if intermingled with gold dust, some of which we endeavored to wash and purify from the dust: but though we were a little prejudiced against the thoughts that it could be possible that this metal should be so promiscuously and universally mingled with common earth, yet we endeavored to cleanse and wash the earth from some of it, and the more we did, the more it appeared like gold; but in order to be further satisfied, I brought away some of it, which we lost in our confusions in China."—Pages 400, 401.

"This valuable work, written and published in advance of the time, met with no favour, and was quickly forgotten. Shortly after its issue the remainder of the edition was purchased, on a venture, by the late W. Gowans and an associate, at twenty-five cents per volume in the sheets, and an arrangement made with a bookbinder to put the stock into boards, the whole of which, with the exception of a copy that Mr. Gowans had retained for himself, was returned cut down almost to the head-lines; an incident to which Mr. Gowans never referred without an emphatic expression of indignation."

2460 [THOMSON (Charles).] An ENQUIRY into the CAUSES of the ALIENATION of the DELAWARE and SHAWANESE INDIANS from the BRITISH INTEREST, . . . Extracted from the Public Treaties, and other Authentic Papers relating to the Transactions of the Government of Pensilvania, and the said Indians, for near Forty Years; and explained by a MAP of the Country. Together with the remarkable Journal of Christian Frederic Post, by whose Negotiations among the Indians on the Ohio, they were withdrawn from the Interest of the French, who thereupon abandoned the Fort and the Country. With Notes by the Editor explaining sundry Indian Customs, &c. Written in Pensylvania. Map. 8vo, pp. 184, boards, uncut. London: T. Wilkie, 1759

Extremely rare in this state.

"One of the principal causes of the hostility of the Pennsylvania Indians was the wicked craft practiced upon them by Governor Thomas Penn, and other proprietors in 1737. Certain chiefs having been called together by the speculators, two persons were found to testify that they were present at a council fifty years before, at which as much land was ceded to William Penn as a man could walk around in a day and a half. There was a chief living who could have proved this testimony false, but he was carefully kept in ignorance of the council, and by mean fraud, endless perjury, and tempting but specious gifts, the surreptitious deed was ratified. To locate as large a territory as possible, a trained pedestrian was employed, who was met at appointed stations by refreshments, and thus was enabled to traverse a route which cut off a million acres from the Indian territory. Less than one-third that quantity of land was the amount which the Indians had been led to expect would be ceded. Endless conferences, and numerous councils, were followed by bloody massacres, that devastated the border settlements of Pennsylvania and Virginia for twenty years. Mr. Thomson's work fully analyzes the cause of the alienation, which the heroic Quaker, Christian Post, hazarded his life to overcome."—FIELD.

Exceedingly rare. When d'Iberville, by order of de Dénonville, and at the instigation of the "Compagnie du Nord" expelled the English from Hudson's Bay in 1686, the news produced such an effect in England that James II. effected this treaty with Louis XIV.

Glocester: R. Raikes, 1782

"A most interesting and curious volume. The Dean says, that no sooner shall the Americans have established their independency, than they will be enslaved by their present rulers—the members of Congress—who will govern them with a rod of iron ; the moment they are at peace with England they will quarrel among themselves, and, with the fury of famished wolves, they will endeavor to tear each other in pieces."

Excessively rare. The volume contains an original account of the first three voyages of Columbus and the account of Vespucci's third voyage, written by himself and first published in Latin in the year 1504, the only voyage made by him of which there is any account coming from his hands, unless the account of the four voyages in the Cosmographio Introductio, also published in 1507, be considered, as it claims to be his work. Vasca de Gama's first voyage. The voyage of Cabral and Pasqualigi's account of Caspar Cortereal's first voyage are also found in this, the first collection of voyages extant.

It was republished in 1519 and 1521. The latter is said to have some additions.

A copy at the sale of the Bolton Corney library in 1871 brought £157. The Beckford sold for £270.

1513 Ptolemy, and fac-simile of Vespucci's letter, Vienne, 1870. Together 3 parts (the complete series) in 1 vol., folio, half morocco, gilt top, uncut edges. Lima, &c., 1865–69–70

These valuable publications, which are the entire result of Varnhagen's studies on Vespucci, contain all the letters of Vespucci, both authentic and doubtful, exactly reproduced from the originals. These are illustrated with literary and bibliographical notes, a critical analysis of his life, extracts from rare books and unpublished documents, &c.; which the editor, as an influential and indefatigable scholar, had favorable opportunities of examining. The concern of the modern world is with the priority of Vespucci as a navigator in American waters, and the origin of the name given to the New World, and everything necessary for any one who wishes to examine the matter thoroughly will be found in Varnhagen's treatises, by which it appears conclusive that Vespucci saw the American continent in 1497–8, in that First Voyage which has been discredited. In fact these disquisitions render completely useless, and supersede almost all previous studies upon Americus Vesputius.

2559 [VESPUCIUS.] FAC-SIMILE of the "DUTCH VESPUCIUS," being the celebrated letter of Americus Vespucius to Laurentius de Medicis describing his Third Voyage to America in 1501. 8vo, half morocco. Providence, 1874

Par le S^r^ Boucault, Ancien Lieutenant Particulier de la Prevosté et Lieut^t^ gñal de L'Amiranté de Quebec: 119 pages, preceded by a title-page ornamented with the drawing of a vessel. Folio, red morocco extra, gilt edges, with coat-of-arms impressed on covers. 1714

From the collection of David Constable.

2746 [CALIFORNIA.] FOUR LETTERS in Spanish, from FRAY RAFAEL VERGER, Guardian of the College of San Fernando, Mexico, to the Fiscal D^n^ Manuel Lanz de Casafonda: as follows:

I. June 30th, 1771. 3 pp., with the copy of a letter enclosed—from one of the Missionaries of Santa Maria—dated 10th May, 1769. 4 pp.

II. August 3d, 1771. 32 pp.

III. August 27th, 1771. 6 pp.
IV. August 28th, 1771. 4 pp.

Reporting on the State of the old Missions of California; and on the new Missions proposed to be founded in the Ports of San Diego and Monte Rey. Folio, half morocco.

2747 CHALMERS (Geo.). MEMORANDUM BOOK, noting peculiar Americanisms, Early Printers and matters connected with the Revolution of 1776. Oblong 12mo, roan.

☞ CHALMERS' PAPERS, see 2784.

CHARLESTON EXPEDITION.

2748 A NARRATIVE of the EXPEDITION against CHARLES-TOWN S° CAROLINA, under the COMMAND of MAJOR GEN- CLINTON . . . and COMMODORE SIR PETER PARKER . . . 1776. May 31 to June 28th. Folio, half calf. 30 pp.

The Narrative of Comm. Parker ends with the attack on Sullivan's Fort, followed by the ten Letters of Gen. Clinton arranging the plan of attack.

CHEROKEE INDIANS.

2749 COPIES of PAPERS respecting the CHEROKEE INDIANS of Virginia, viz.:

DEED with the Cherokees. 1767.
TREATY at Fort Stanwix. 1768.
INSTRUCTIONS to the Commissioners respecting Boundaries.
COMMISSIONER'S REPORT, &c., &c.
OFFICIAL (printed) LETTER from G. Home, dated Rappahannock River, June 20, 1723, &c., &c. Folio, 52 pp., half morocco.

2750 BRIEF REMARKS concerning the COD-FISHERY, the BEAVER TRADE, and the LIMITS of NEW ENGLAND and NEW FRANCE. Folio, half morocco, 61 pp.

☞ "The writer of the preceding Paper says that he was on the Upper Lakes in 1687, and that he afterwards held an office under the French Government in the Island of Newfoundland . . . The Baron de la Hontan was on the Lakes in that year, and he afterwards held an office in Newfounuland. He offended the government by his conduct there, and was obliged to fly from France, and spend the remainder of his life in other countries. These circumstances render it almost certain that he was the author of the Paper. And his exile will account for the apparently treacherous manner in which he exposed the views and policy of the government of his native country. The paper bears evident marks of being a translation." J[ared] S[parks], Oct., 1846.

The above note is written in the autograph of Jared Sparks on p. 63. An autograph letter to the same effect, addressed to Winthrop Sargent, is inserted at the beginning. The MS. once belonged to Robert Southey.

2751 [COLUMBUS.] A MANUSCRIPT PETITION, ADDRESSED by COLUMBUS to FERDINAND and ISABELLA, claiming certain rights based upon several "Capitalaciones" which are here recited. 16 pages in a remarkably clear character. Folio, crushed levant morocco extra, gilt edges, by Gruel. 1492–1494

"The Capitulaciones" of 1492, which are here given, can be found in Navarrete, the others have never been printed, and do not even exist in the Archives of the Indias.

This document was evidently dictated by Christopher Columbus at the Island of Hispaniola in 1494. By comparing the handwriting with that of several important papers preserved here [Sevilla] . . . Don Francisco de Paula Juarez, the chief archivist, and myself, came to the conclusion that it had been written by Diego de Penalosa . . . H. H.

2752 [CUBA.] LITTERA MANDATA della INSULA de CUBA de India in la quale se contiene dele Insule Citte Gente et animali novamente trovate de lanno. MDXIX. per li Spagnoli. 4to, half morocco. 9 leaves, including title, in modern MS.

DINWIDDIE PAPERS.

2753 MILITARY LETTERS, &c., and OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE of GOVERNOR ROBERT DINWIDDIE, of VIRGINIA, from 1754 to 1757. 453 pp., 2 vols., 4to, half morocco.

These letters are addressed to George Washington, Col. Fry, Col. Innes, Lord Fairfax, Hon. John Rutherford, the Sachems and Warriors of the Cherokees, &c., &c., and are copied in a clear handwriting.

The second document bears the names of Raphe Hamor, William Claybourne, Roger Smith, Abraham Perley, Francis Wyatt and Francis West.

2759 [HUNTER.] REFLECTIONS on the different States and Conditions of Society, with the Outlines of a Plan to ameliorate the Circumstances of the INDIANS of NORTH AMERICA. A neatly written MS. [by two hands] of 38 pages. 4to, half morocco, gilt top.

PAUL JONES' LOG BOOK.

2760 A JOURNALL kept on Board the SERAPIS, an English Ship of War, of 44 Guns, taken the 23rd of September, [1779] (by the Bon Homme Richd.) now Commanded by the HONBLE PAUL JONES. Folio, the original parchment covers, in a half morocco case.

☞ The above Journal commences with the events of Sept. 26, 1779, on which day Commodore Paul Jones changed his colors from the SERAPIS, on account of the BON HOMME RICHARD sinking from the damage received in her action with the SERAPIS. On Nov. 22nd of the same year his flag was transferred to the ALLIANCE, see p. 21. On Monday, June 12, 1780, Capt. Landy [Landais] took command of the ALLIANCE "by Order of Congress." June 15th the Journal is continued on the ARIEL. On June 22 the SERAPIS was sold for 240,000 livres. On Aug. 26 the scribe has evidently opened a fresh bottle of ink for the remainder of the MS. is black and clear, instead of the faded brown appearance of the preceding 86 pages. The Log ends at p. 98 (Oct. 14) with the ship repairing damages (sustained in a storm on Oct. 9) in the harbor of L'Orient; after which follows a transcription, 3 pp., from the original MS. account of the action with the Serapis. Then 44 pp. List of Officers, &c., on the Bon Homme Richard and Ariel, &c.

On the cover the following is written under date of Sept. 3, 1780:

"This book belongs to Mr Henry Lunt, Lieutenant of the Ship of War —— [Bon Homme Richard]."

See Sherburne's Paul Jones, p. 171.

2761 KEMP (Richard, Secy. of Va.). "DUPLICATE of my letter to theyer Honoble Comissioners" for foreign plantations. 4 leaves, signed "Virg: this 17th of May 1635." Folio, calf extra, by Riviere.

2762 [LAURENS.] The PETITION of HENRY LAURENS to His Majesty's [GEO. III.] principal SECRETARIES of STATE denying all charges which had been advanced, as to his disloyalty to England, and asking to be allowed the use of pen and ink, permission to receive visits from his Son, and the assistance of an Attorney. Signed Henry Laurens, Tower of London, 23rd June, 1781. Folio, half morocco, 11 pp.

THE LIVINGSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

2763 This famous collection of over 1,000 LETTERS, PETITIONS, &c., for the most part addressed to William Livingston, while he held the position of Governor of New Jersey, is generally of an official character, the earliest 1775, the latest 1782, though Gov. Livingston held his office for 14 years. While it will be impossible in these pages to give anything approaching an adequate idea of the value of this collection, the following list selected from some of the more important papers, will at least form a clue to their importance. The whole carefully mounted and bound in 8 folio volumes, half russia (in a wooden case), including a complete Index and Digest of the whole.

LAIGHT (William), London, England, Oct. 3, 1775, to John Jay.

"Many who say . . . They can no longer advocate the cause [of America] . . . Many . . . hesitate not to declare that the Americans are in a state of Rebellion, & that the most coercive measures ought to be pursued . . . others . . . speak in favor of America . . . but . . . declare, that while the Colonies are protected by & remain a part of this Kingdom, they ought to contribute in a constitutional manner, their proportion of the expenses of the Empire . . . The Riches, Strength & Grandeur of this Island, has not I am afraid been sufficiently attended to, by the Leaders of the opposition in America . . . For well I am convinced that if its Power should be exerted against our native Country, that universal desolation must inevitably be the unhappy Consequence."

HUNT (Isaac), London, Apl. 27, 1778.

"My dear Polly" [his wife] "But America is, by no means the Country, where a Clergyman of the Church of England could live tolerably comfortable, unless like a Smith, a Duche, a Coombes and a White he could creep and cringe and trim and perjure himself for a morsel of bread. Moreover if Independence is established the Church with the Monarchy will be destroyed, and Republicanism with Presbyterianism its Brat erected on their ruins."

The Reverend Gentleman concludes with other ill digested and virulent matter, more forcible than elegant, and if "dear Polly" read between the lines, the chances are that she declined to be re-united.

VAN DER CAPELLEN, Amsterdam, 6 July, 1779.

Thirteen folio pages closely written in (presumably) choice Dutch, with an English translation attached.

The letters now following are written to Gov. Livingston except when otherwise stated, and continue in proper chronological sequence.

1779.

HUNTINGTON (Sam'l), Phila., Oct. 8.

A courteous communication assuring the Governor of his social loyalty.

THOMSON (Chas.), Nov. 4.

Conveying the thanks of Congress to his Excellency.

LIVINGSTON (Margaret), Claremont, Nov. 9.

Thankfull that her Dear Dear Husband is now "safe in the Harbor of Bliss."

BOUDINOT (Elisha), Elizbt. Town, Dec. 1.

"Surprised at General Paterson's descending so low, as to attempt imposing upon your Excellency by a mere quibble . . . when he asserts that Lezier is not in Irons."

1780.

HUNTINGTON (Sam'l), Phila., Jany. 20.

Enclosing Act of Congress "that the most effectual measures may be taken to prevent such nefarious practices of supplying the Enemy with provisions."

TRUMBULL (Jonathan), Hartford, 27 January.

"Credit Sir! is a coy dame—she must be nicely attended to & even then her Humour is very capricious."

WATKINS (John W.), Mch. 5.

"Permission to pay my Addresses to your youngest Daughter."

LOUDON (William), Morristown, Mch. 6.

An extraordinary appeal from a murderer "in Bondage and in irons strong."

TRUMBULL (Jonathan), Lebanon, Mch. 10.

"This measure [Repeal of the Tender Act] was dictated by a Desire to revert once more to the long-forgotten paths of Justice and Integrity."

WASHINGTON (Geo.), Morristown, 16 March.

"The lengthy confinement of many of our officers some of whom have been prisoners since the affair of Long Island, has alone made them extremely sensible of any exchange which has the least appearance of partiality."

HOUSTON (W. C.), Phila., 18 Mch.

"I have the Honour to enclose you the Proceedings of a General Court-martial held for the Trial of Major General Benedict Arnold."

PETERS (Richard), Mch. 20.

"The Reason of addressing your Excellency at this Time is to ask your Assistance in relieving the Army from an impending Calamity," &c., &c., meaning, lack of money to transport Provisions.

WASHINGTON (Genl.), Morristown, Mch. 26.

Directing the deposit of Provisions for the Army in the various New Jersey Stations.

FLEUDRIE (Chev. de la), Apl. 4.

"I beg for your protection [against taxation] and to be treated as the american gentlemen are treated in France."

HOUSTON (W. C.), Phil., 4 April.

"The army is again suffering for want of provisions."

CHAMBERLIN (Wm.), Amwell, April 3.

"The adjutant, four of the Captains, & one Lieut. has Refused to Obey my orders."

This disgruntled officer continues his various complaints through the whole of this and next year.

FORMAN (Samuel), Apl. 7, Kildan.

"The lower part of the Country is in Continual Possession of the enemy."

SCUDDER (Nath'l), Freehold, Apl. 10.

"Mrs. Roe . . . is the Widow of Mathias Roe, one of the unfortunate Militiamen who in the Month of February, 1777 were surprised on the high Lands of Naversink and made Prisoner by the british, and who soon after fell a Victim with many others of them to british cruelty in the accursed Sugar house at New York."

MORRIS (Robt.), Phila., Apl. 17.

"I approve very much the idea of employing Young Gentlemen in the American Navy, which will most certainly become one day or other respected on the Ocean, however depressed now."

HARRISON (Robt H.), Morris Town, Apl. 19.

Communicating the desire of Washington to retain the body of Militia Horse engaged by the Baron de Kalb.

HALSTED (Matthias), NIEL (Robt.).

Dated from the Sugar House, New York, April 24, and detailing their miseries in that prison.

LIVINGSTON (W. B.), Madrid, May 5.

Thanking God that he is now at Madrid and expressing the belief that though Mr. Jay may succeed in his mission, the Spanish government will "make us purchase their friendship as dear as possible."

FELL (John), Phila., May 7.

"This day I received a Card . . . that we would attend to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock at the Catholic Chapple in this City to Pray (I believe it was to Pray, but as it was French, which I do not understand very well, I am not sure) for the Repose of the Soul of Mr. Merallies, I shall attend and do the needfull."

TILGHMAN (Tenet), H. Q., 11 May.

"I have the pleasure to inform you that the Marquis de Lafayette announces Mr. Jay's safe arrival in Spain." The letter further observes that Great Britain cannot secure Allies, the German Princes are cold, Holland neutral, and Ireland sulky.

LUCERNE (Ct. de la).
Also relative to Mr. Jay's Mission.

ALLINSON (Sam'l), Burlington, May 25.
A ludicrous exhibit of Quaker self-satisfaction. "My principles are thus superior to thine."

REMSEN (Henry), Morristown, 27 May.
Regretting he could procure no "hatts" for the Governor and himself in Philadelphia "the brims were all too large."

MORRIS (Jacob), Phil., June 1.
"The friends of Mr. Gouverneur Morris in New York being extremely uneasy at his present unfortunate situation are exceedingly desirous that his sister Mrs. Ashfield should come out to this city to visit him."

HOUSTON (W. C.), Phil., 2 June.
"As I came through Trenton I heard of a Supplement or Gazette extraordinary of Rivington's figuring upon the capture of Charlestown."

HOUSTON (W. C.), Phil., 5 June.
Announcing the capture of Fort Moultrie.

HEARD (Nath'l), Springfield. June 10.

STIRLING (Lord), Camp Springfield, 13 June.
"The enemy remain in the same position."

TILGHMAN (Tenet), Camp Springfield, June 14.
The Enemy's horse having made a short excursion they were fired upon, one killed and several wounded, "among the latter . . . the famous Cornelius Hatfield."

MAXWELL (Wm.), Jersey Camp, 14 June.
"Intelligence was received that the enemy were landing in force . . . I thought Elizabeth Town would be an improper place for me, I therefore retired." A conflict was enjoyed later when the writer says "General Stirling is among their wounded . . . with Count Donop Killed."

WALLACE (Joshua M.), Springfield, June 15.
"Mrs. Livingston and all the Family are well, that they were treated with great politeness by the Enemy."

FORMAN (Samuel), Black Point, June 17.
"Yesterday Admiral Arbuthnot & three Frigates arrived at the hook."

BLANCK (Thos.), Bergen Co., 18 June.
"On the 16th instant the Vulture of sixteen guns came up as high as Clouster (?)"

STIRLING (Lord), Springfield, June 19.
"It is reduced to a certainty that Admiral Arbuthnot arrived at New York with nearly 70 ships . . . on the 17th."

STEUBEN (Baron), Springfield, 20 June.
"The weakness of the Post to which I have been appointed . . . has given me inexpressible concern"; with Answer of the Governor.

FAESH (John Jacob), Mount Hope, 26 June.

Complaining that he cannot operate the Hibernia Furnace rented of Lord Stirling, if his workmen are drafted for military service.

LIVINGSTON (H. B.), Madrid, 12 July.

Evidently Spain is still on the fence; the writer says "Mr. Jay is not yet acknowledged." Mr. Cumberland [the British agent] & his family "are much caressed."

JAY (John), Madrid, July 14,

"There is a little stranger here who I hope will one Day have the Pleasure of calling you Grandfather." The letter goes on to state an attempt made to name the child after "the Saint of that day" but finding Pope St. Cirilo was the individual "and as neither that name, or office, except in the case of Pope Joan, ever appertained to a female" the name of Susanna is chosen. "a good sort of woman" who "nobly resisted the lascivious attempts of two Inquisitor Generals."

WASHINGTON (Geo.), Peeks Kill, Aug. 1.

"A considerable part of the Enemy's force are gone to Rhode Island with a view of reducing the armament from France." Continuing, the General proposes to move against New York "with rapidity and vigor" in order to divert the Enemy.

LIVINGSTON (H. B.), Madrid, Aug. 8.

"Mr. Jay is not acknowledged . . . The Count D'Estaing is just arrived at this Coast, it is thought he is to have command of the combined fleets at Cadiz."

LIVINGSTON (Wm. Alex.), Orange Town, 17 Aug.

"I saw [at West Point] Col. Lamb . . . he has got Lt. Moody closely confined in Irons at Fort Putnam . . . he does not think the place secure enough for so great a Villain."

DAYTON (Elias), Orange Town, Aug. 17.

"Our army is, in comparison to what it has been, pretty formidable in point of number."

STIRLING (Lord), Orange Town, Aug. 18.

"The Army is once more in the State of New Jersey, or very near it."

PICKERING (Timothy), Trenton, Sept. 18.

"I am happy that your Excellency pronounces Col. Neilson . . . "an excellent man" . . . I have taken much pains to find persons deserving that title."

ARNOLD-ANDRE CONSPIRACY.

Copies of the Letters of Nathl. Green, Benedict Arnold "On Board the Vulture" and Genl. Washington, communicating the particulars of this famous event, followed by a long letter from W. C. Houston on the same subject.

HOUSTON (W. C.), Phil., Oct. 2.

"On Saturday night last Arnold was carried in effigy through the streets of this City, and burnt at the Coffee-house, with his Friend the Devil."

REED (Joseph), Bethlehem, Oct. 5.

"The Brethren at this Place have informed me that they have sundry Books of a Spiritual Nature at New York which they are desirous to avail themselves of."

BURR (Aaron), Peramus, 20 Oct.

" I have long had an acquaintance with Miss [Caty] Goelet, and know her to be a worthy inoffensive character . . . A variety of misfortunes have rendered her subsistence here impracticable."

CLARK (Abm.), Phil., Oct. 22.

"Reports very likely have reached you of our obtaining an important advantage over the Enemy in Carolina . . . The whole intelligence depends on the Veracity of Major Tate."

LEE (Thos. S.), Annapolis, Nov. 3.

Requesting on behalf of the Maryland Delegates a passport for Doctor Upton Scott through N. Y. and N. J.

MOFFAT (Wm.), Eliz. Town, Nov. 15.

2765 [MASSACHUSETTS COLONY RECORDS.] "A true copie of the Court booke of the Governor and Society of the Massachusetts Bay in New England." 314 pages (minus 5 and 6 and 135 and 136), folio, old calf.

"The above MS. copy appears to have belonged to the great-grandfather of Governor Thomas Hutchinson . . . It then undoubtedly passed into the possession of his oldest son, Hon. Elisha Hutchinson . . . and from him to his oldest son, Hon. Thomas Hutchinson . . . father of Governor Hutchinson, who unquestionably carried the manuscript to England when he forsook his birthplace in 1774 . . . I find that some of its pages are in the handwriting of Secretary Rawson, and the largest and earliest part of the remainder in that of a contemporary, possibly Secretary Nowell . . . and may have been written even before the passage of the Court order in 1653."—NATH. B. SHURTLEFF.

In 1865 this MS. was loaned to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to restore certain imperfections in the Original Records, it being the only copy known to exist.

This important MS. is in most excellent preservation, the handwriting legible throughout, and not more than a dozen leaves have needed repair.

On the 25th of March, 1865, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts took steps to ascertain "upon what terms, if any, the volume of Massachusetts Colonial Records . . . can be obtained for the Library of this Commonwealth"; to quote still further from their communication, "The Original Records in this office, of which the volume in your possession is a copy, by use are very much worn and defaced, and it is very desirable, if possible, that the loss of leaves and parts of leaves should be supplied. The copy you have is the only one known to be in existence."
